The Lost Lands: The Wizard's Amulet

The Wizard's Amulet is a short, introductory adventure for six newly created good-aligned 1st-level characters.

The adventure revolves around Corian, a fledgling Sorcerer. While an apprentice, Corian discovered a letter written by a wizard named Eralion, who it is said some years ago attempted to become a lich-and failed.

Accompanying the letter was a mysterious amulet with strange markings. Joined by newfound companions, Corian set off in search of Eralion's keep and his supposedly unguarded treasure. But Corian is not alone in desiring to unlock the mystery of Eralion's fate. Darker, more evil forces have designs on the secrets reputedly hidden with Eralion--forces willing to stop at nothing to obtain...The Wizard's Amulet.

01.03 The Smiling Skull

You have driven off the beasts, though some of you are wounded. You know that you must get out of this wilderness soon. You travel for two more days (until finally, those haunting, childlike cries are behind you). At last, the weather starts to clear, and as you stop for a water break along a stream, you see a strange rock formation atop a hill to the west. You can't be sure, but from your current angle it looks as if the rocks have been placed purposefully. You venture closer and discover that someone has arranged large rocks on the top of the hill in the shape of a grinning human skull.

This is a red herring and has nothing to do with this adventure. In fact, it is an homage to a classic old adventure, which had just such an arrangement of stones on the hill in which a certain tomb was located. The party may wish to waste a lot of time and energy here, but there is nothing to find. One of the rocks, however, has been enchanted with a hallow spell that causes fear. Every creature that approaches within 10 feet of the stone skull must make a DC 17 Charisma saving throw. Characters who succeed are unaffected, but those who fail become frightened of the arrangement of stones (as the frightened condition), so they refuse to get closer than 10 feet to the skull and they have disadvantage on ability checks and attack rolls while the skull is within their line of sight. The spell also causes the area to detect as moderate evocation magic if someone casts a detect magic spell.
